Leadership In-Service Series 2017– 2018

Developing Leadership Skills

The MPA Leadership In-Service Series is open to all educators

Full Day Session — Bring a Team — July 27, 2017, 8:30 AM—3:00 PM

Mike Schmoker — Leading With Focus

Come with a team and make the most of this powerful learning opportunity! In this workshop, leaders will learn precisely where schools should focus their very precious time and resources to ensure that all students are prepared for the demands of college, careers, and citizenship. Participants will learn about the three most essential elements of good schooling, and how to implement them on a clear, straightforward model. Despite their unrivaled power for improving performance in any school, these elements continue to be misunderstood, and grossly under-implemented. Mike believes that they should be our first and highest priority!

July 27, 2017

Traditional Format — AM Session 8:30 - 11:30 or PM Session 12:30 - 3:30

Clayton Cook — Student Social, Emotional, and Behavioral Functioning: The Foundation for School and Life Success

Relationships, emotional competence, and self-regulation are critical enablers to academic and life success. This presentation will provide the evidence and rationale for why schools need to focus on promoting students' social, emotional, and behavioral wellbeing, as well as specific evidence-based practices that can be integrated into a school's multi-tiered system of supports.

Jeff Duncan-Andrade — Note to Educators: Hope Required When Growing Roses in Concrete

What are the material conditions affecting urban youth before they even step foot in our classrooms? What does it mean to develop educational environments that are relevant and responsive to these conditions? This session focuses on developing educators to be better equipped to create education environments in response to the social toxins that emerge from racism and poverty. Discussion includes identifying false hopes found in many schools, and the necessary elements of education practice that produce and sustain true hope.

Shelley Burgess — Lead Like A Pirate

Learn dynamic strategies to dramatically transform culture and build schools where students and staff run to get in, not out. This session demonstrates how to take revolutionary ideas and supercharge them for leaders, so you can become the leader you've always wanted to be. Passion, Immerse, Rapport, Analyze, Transform, and Enthusiasm are the keywords to leading like a pirate. Leaders will walk away from this session with strategies they can implement tomorrow.
