

MOTIVATION AND LANGUAGE

Cultural liaisons serve as a bridge between our culturally and linguistically diverse (CLD) families and learners. Liaisons leverage their cultural capital to ensure equitable approaches that meet the needs of families. As populations shift and change in MN liaisons and all staff must be equipped with understandings of educational theories and models for language development, best practices and strategies for motivating their learners and keeping them engaged in school. With these understandings liaisons will be able to support families and districts by creating an environment of collaboration and engagement, moving beyond simple involvement.

The workshop will help liaisons to better work with CLD learners, mainstream and district staffs to ensure programs meet needs of learners providing access to both language and content development coursework and
