

Co-Teaching Core Competencies

with Martina Wagner

August 10, 2018 At Metro ECSU
8:30-11:30am (8:00am check in)

Who should attend?

Co-teacher teams, administrators, specialists, instructional coaches, para educators, any combination of teacher teams.

Administrators, teachers, coaches, and communities of practice will utilize this unique set of competencies to assist in identifying those areas where co-teachers need assistance, so they may hone those necessary skills to become an effective and true co-teaching team. Not only can co-teaching team members work more effectively and achieve their potential, but there is a link between their team's performance with their school's vision and mission of an inclusive environment and providing a high quality education to all students.

Co-teacher teams are strongly encouraged to attend together.

Participants who attend this session will become familiar with:

- Core competencies of successful and sustainable co-teaching framework
- What the core domains and competencies are, and how they are used
- How this framework differs from traditional classroom expectations

Presenter Martina Wagner, Ed.D:

Dr. Martina Wagner has served English Language learners for over twenty years in grades pre-K through adult education. Her expertise includes best practice and programming for ELs, Sheltered Instruction, Co-teaching, Special Education Identification of ELs, WIDA standards, and English Language Learning assessments and data. Martina's background in co-teaching spans from classroom to district implementation, professional developer, instructional coach, as well as strategic district action planning and implementation. Martina has done extensive research throughout the United States on co-teaching and currently serves public, private, and charter schools as a professional development consultant.

There are many definitions of what a competency is. Using this co-teaching framework 'A competency represents the skills, knowledge and behaviors required to perform effectively in the role of true co-teaching.'
