ABOUT THE WORKSHOP

Participants in this workshop will learn about social/emotional units of study with lessons centered on

- » developing social perspective taking skills
- » increasing awareness of emotions and associated non-verbal cues
- » controlling impulsive behaviors
- » expanding the social awareness skills necessary for reciprocal friendships and social interactions

These units of study incorporate lesson activities utilizing children's literature, a variety of visual learning tools, role-play activities, interactive games, internet resources, and other technology tools.
