For: Cued Speech Transliterators

Workshop description:

The morning portion will focus on oral transliteration, mouth movements, and facial expression. The afternoon portion will focus on cue reading through a variety of activities.

Presenters:

Angela Zellen is fluent in both ASL and cued speech. She was born with a hearing loss. She first started to learn ASL until cued speech was introduced in preschool at the age of three. Angela knows both cued speech and ASL have contributed to her ability to understand English and to communicate with deaf/hh peers. Angela is currently attending college to pursue a clinical social worker degree. Angela enjoys volleyball, college, meeting new people, psychology, making crafts, attending workshops and many more. Angela is an advocate for cued speech.

Sarah Druley is both a certified Cued Language Transliterator and ASL interpreter. Sarah has worked in a variety of capacities. She enjoys interpreting, transliterating, mentoring, and teaching for children and adults. As the president of the Cued Speech Association of Minnesota, she seeks to coordinate cued speech education classes and promote cued speech in Minnesota.
