So Good!

PRE-CONFERENCE

Virtual, Available for viewing: August 23, 2021- November 3, 2021
Cost: FREE, but you MUST register.

A four-part recorded webinar series, featuring familiar faces, will provide a warm welcome and orientation to this year's virtual conference platform. Participants will gain foundational knowledge in what will be the Main Conference emphasis of using high leverage practices to engage students with disabilities, especially those with low incidence disabilities, in academic standards.

Webinar 1: Conference Opener (15 minutes)

In this webinar, we welcome participants with a historical perspective of Charting the Cs, discuss our new virtual platform, and highlight our commitment to accessibility.

Webinar 2: Standards & Meaningful Access (30 minutes)

In this webinar, Minnesota educators from across the field collaborate with a researcher with the TIES Center at the University of Minnesota to discuss standards and meaningful access.

Webinar 3: High Leverage Practices (30 minutes)

In this webinar, Minnesota educators from across the field collaborate with staff from the CEDAR Center to discuss High Leverage Practices.

Webinar 4: The Low Incidence Perspective (30 minutes)

In this webinar, a panel of state and statewide specialists discuss the field of low incidence disabilities concerning the importance of each High Leverage Practice and the application of academic standards.
